c. 1900-1960s

12 glass plate negatives, 389 postcards; 5 boxes; approximately 2 linear feet of records

Darrell Talbert is a longtime resident of Corona who collects images, documents, and ephemera related to South Riverside, Corona, and the Inland Empire. The Talbert Image Collection consists of plate glass negatives and postcards that were formerly part of Mr. Talbert's private collection. The images contained on the negatives and postcards document the citrus industry, transportation, local businesses, private residences, and landscape of the region.

The collection is arranged into two series: plate glass negatives and postcards. The plate glass negative series focuses on early Corona, with images of Grand Boulevard, Carnegie Library, Corona City Hall (Main Street), and the original Corona High School. The postcard series includes black and white, color, and hand tinted images of the Inland Empire. Included in this series are images of Redlands, Riverside, and Lake Elsinore.
